A Report on “1st Annual Clothes Collection Camp ” Organized by NSS CELL

From 29/10/2024 TO 06/11/2024

Report Submitted by: Mr.Pujari Rajesh, Assistant professor, Department Mechanical.

Attendance: 60 participants(Students)

Introduction :

From 29th October to 6th November 2024, the NSS Unit of our college, in association with the Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering (EEE), organized the 1st Annual Cloth Collection Camp. This noble initiative was designed to collect gently used clothing from the college community to distribute to those in need, emphasizing the values of compassion and community service.

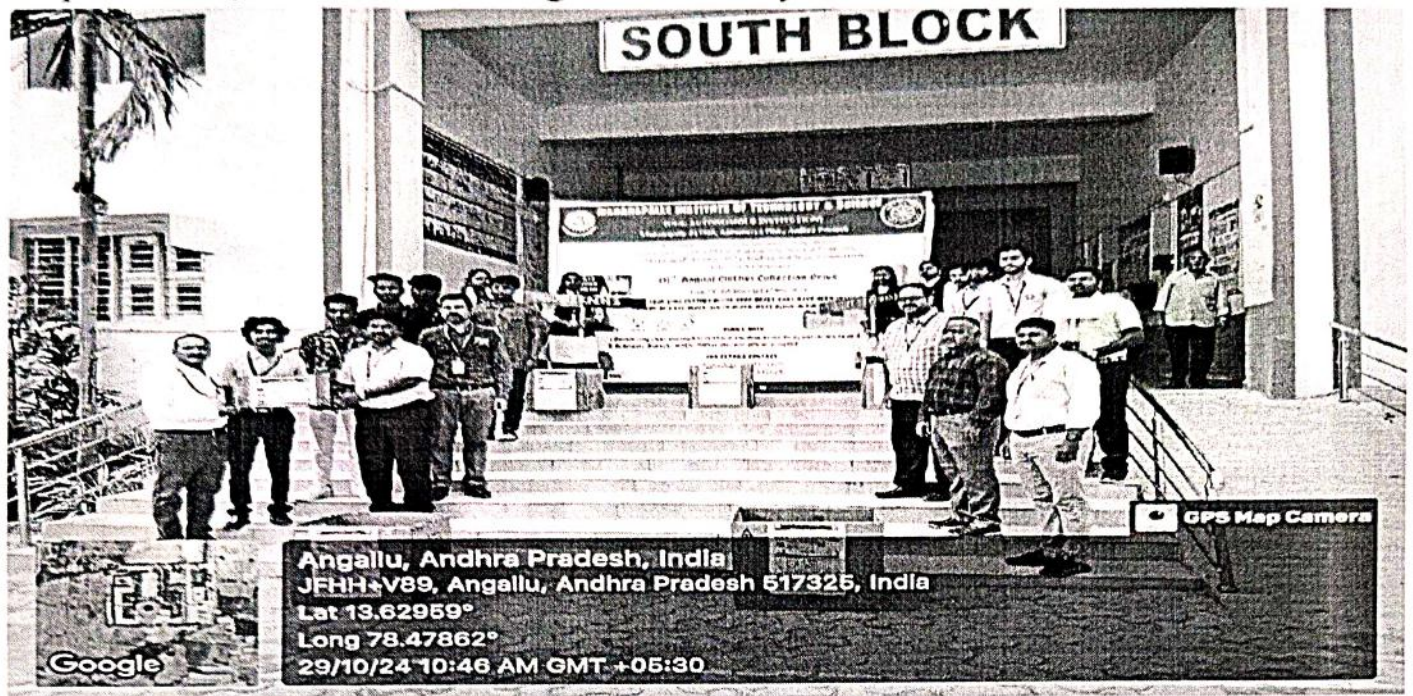

With the active participation of 20 NSS volunteers and 5 faculty members, the camp aimed to inspire a spirit of generosity and create a positive impact on the lives of underprivileged individuals. This thoughtful endeavor not only encouraged sustainable practices through the reuse of clothing but also fostered a sense of social responsibility among students and staff alike.

Event Highlights :

The 1st Annual Cloth Collection Camp, organized by the NSS Unit in association with the EEE Department, witnessed enthusiastic participation from 20 NSS volunteers and 5 faculty members. Over the course of nine days, students and staff from across the college contributed generously, resulting in the collection of a significant amount of gently used clothing. The collaborative efforts of the NSS team and the EEE Department ensured the smooth execution of the initiative, which aimed to provide much-needed support to underprivileged individuals. Beyond the collection drive, the camp served as a platform to raise awareness about sustainability and the impact of small acts of kindness, fostering a spirit of compassion and social responsibility within the college community.

Event Process :

The 1st Annual Cloth Collection Camp began with meticulous planning and organization by the NSS Unit in collaboration with the EEE Department. Helpdesks and donation bags were strategically placed at multiple locations across the college campus, making it convenient for students, staff, and faculty to contribute to the noble cause. The helpdesks were manned by NSS volunteers, who actively guided donors and ensured that only clean and usable clothes were added to the collection.

To create awareness and encourage participation, posters and announcements were made across the campus, emphasizing the importance of supporting underprivileged communities. As donations poured in, the volunteers diligently sorted, packed, and labeled the clothes, ensuring they were ready for distribution.

The collected clothing was then set aside for distribution to a local orphanage, chosen for its genuine need and alignment with the campaign's purpose. This process not only ensured an efficient and meaningful collection drive but also instilled a sense of responsibility and compassion within the college community, making the camp a memorable and impactful initiative.

Conclusion :

The 1st Annual Cloth Collection Camp concluded successfully, with a total of 204 pairs of clothes collected through the collective efforts of students, faculty, and staff. This initiative, organized by the NSS Unit in collaboration with the EEE Department, highlighted the power of community and compassion in bringing about meaningful change. The collected clothing will be distributed to a local orphanage, ensuring that the contributions reach those who truly need them. The event not only made a tangible difference in the lives of the underprivileged but also inspired everyone involved to continue supporting similar causes in the future.
