An event was organised in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, MITS on 22 December, 2022 to celebrate National Mathematics Day. The program was attended by the faculties and staff of Department of Mechanical Engineering along with Dr. P. Ramanathan, Vice Principal (Academics) & Dr. Eswar Sunkara, Chief Scientific Officer.

The program started at 4:30 with a brief introductory note by Dr. M. Lakshmana Rao (Professor & HOD, Mechanical Engineering Department) on the life and achievements of legendary Indian mathematician, Srinivasan Ramanujan. This was followed by a discussion on the importance of mathematics in solving real life engineering problems through data science & machine learning.

Taking the advantage of the occasion, the ongoing research activities & future research plans of department was also discussed in presence of Dr. P. Ramanathan, Vice Principal (Academics) & Dr. Eswar Sunkara (Chief Scientific Officer).

The program concluded at 6:00 PM with a vote of thanks by Dr. M. Lakshmana Rao.
