

INTERNATIONAL WATER DAY HELD ON 22/03/2016

A REPORT BY DR. K.V.V.RAAJU PO NSS MITS

An international day to celebrate freshwater was recommended at the 1992 United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED) in Rio de Janeiro. The United Nations General Assembly responded by designating 22 March 1993 as the first World Water Day.

On that day all the NSS volunteers assembled before the admin office at 4.00 clock after the class work. The program officer spoke about the importance of Water and Sustainable Development. He also explained that it is our responsibility to use the water properly and we should not waste it. Everybody should feel responsible when he is using the water. Drops of water become a occasion. Don't waste the water at homes and toilets.

All the NSS volunteers decided to take this message to the people. All the Nss volunteers started giving slogans like save the water and save the earth. Save the water and save the people. All the NSS volunteers pasted message oriented stickers at all the premises of the college where the usage of water is there. They also pasted the stickers with all the washrooms of the college.

The event became a grand success. The message touched the hearts of the people.
