

Report on
Five Days FDP on
Advanced Approaches and Innovative Intricacies for Modern Language Classrooms
Organized by
Department of English and Foreign Languages
26.06.2023 to 30.06.2023

Report submitted by: Dr. Kavitha V, Assistant Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages.

Report Received on 26/7/2023

Co-ordinated by : Dr. Kavitha V, Assistant Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages.
Dr. S Mohan Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages.

Resource Person: Prof. P. Padma, Department of English, Yogi Vemana University, Kadapa, Andhra Pradesh.

Five Day Faculty Development Program on “Advanced Approaches and Innovative Intricacies for Modern Language Classrooms” organized by Department of English and Foreign Languages. The FDP aimed to disseminate the participants with contemporary teaching methodologies and equip different strategies and skills to implement effectively in their classrooms.

The First day of the FDP (26.06.2023) was begun with an inaugural function started at 2 pm to set the tone for the program. Opening remarks for the FDP was given by Dr. P. Athahar, Head & Associate Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS. She welcomed and introduced all the resource persons in the forum and also gave a glimpse of the FDP Programme. Mr C.Purushotam, Assistant Professor Department of English & Foreign languages MITS introduced the resource person for the first session Dr. Chintalapalli Vijayakumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, BITS Pilani. The programme progressed with the resource person's topic “Beyond Methods and Beyond skills: academic writing for Practicing Teachers”. He gave a detailed account of how writing and its nuances can effectively be transacted in the classroom by implementing the latest technological and strategies with power point presentation. Participants discussed various aspects with the speaker such as effective writing for classroom teachings and its outcomes. The presentation was extremely insightful on the various challenges associated with which a teacher or educator has to overcome.

Dr R. Sir Ganesh, Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages of MITS moderated Q & A session.

Finally, a vote of thanks was proposed by Dr S Mohan Kumar, Assistant Professor Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS.

The whole session was hosted by Dr K. Lakshmi Devi, Assistant Professor of English & Foreign languages, MITS.

The Second Day of FDP (27.06.2023) the Resource person was Prof. P.Padma, Department of English, Yogi Vemana University, Kadapa, Andhra Pradesh. Dr V. Kavitha Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS introduced the resource guest to the participants and session was handed over to the resource person. The Resource Person Prof. P. Padma furnished valuable insights regarding the topic “Netiquettes for Teachers and Students of English Classroom”. She highlighted the importance of Netiquettes for Teachers in digital era. She oriented on quintessential techniques to mentor modern English classroom teachings. She also played a video regarding the topic for the participants. The session ended with a Q & A session moderated with the aid of Dr R Sriganesh.

Dr. S Mohankumar, Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS proposed the vote of thanks. The session was very fruitful for the participants with their positive feedbacks. The entire session was hosted by Dr K. Lakshmi Devi, Assistant Professor of English & Foreign languages, MITS.

The Third Day of FDP (28.06.2023) was handed by Dr. S. Armstrong, Head & Department of English, University of Madras, Tamil Nadu. Introduction of the resource person to the forum was given by Dr V.Kavitha Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS. Further the program progressed with the resource person’s speech. He addressed the participants with question about ICT tools used by teachers in their classrooms. He then addressed “Applications of ICT in Modern Classrooms; Advantages & Disadvantages”. He addressed the advantages of ICT in modern classroom like problem-based learning, Cooperative learning, Constructivism and Inquiry based learning. He further provided hands-on training related to the application of ICT tools. He created a space for participants to be interactive and engaged. He provided different worksheets with questions and assigned tasks to participants through the online platform. The participants actively responded to his question and were assigned tasks. The question-and-answer session was fruitful and clarified the canons about ICT tools in education platforms. At the end of the session, Dr S. Mohankumar, Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS. Participants remarked that the session was interesting throughout the end and acquainted with many new ICT which they can utilize in their classrooms.

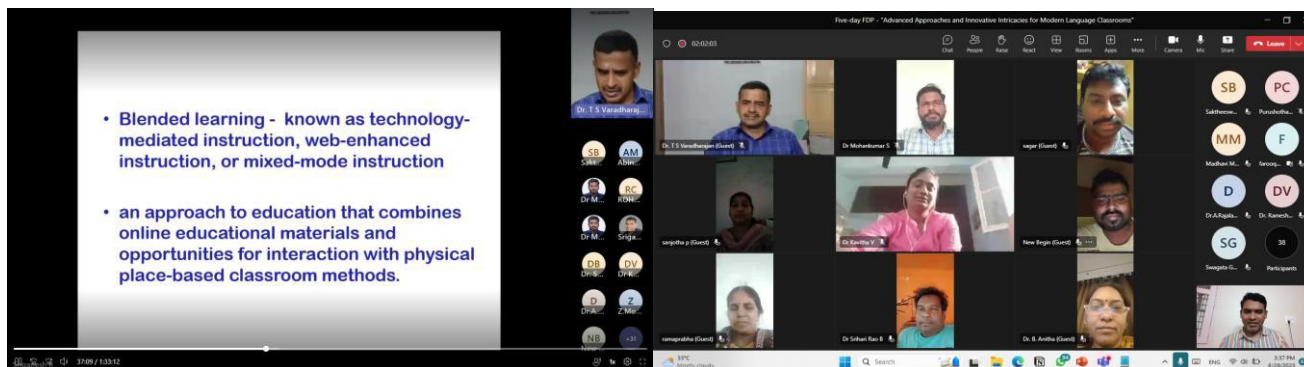

The entire session was hosted by Dr K. Lakshmi Devi, Assistant Professor of English& Foreign languages, MITS.

The Fourth day of FDP (29.06.2023) was Dr.T.S Varadharajan, Associate Professor, PG & Research Department of English, Thiagarajar College, Madurai, Tamil Nadu delivered his lecture on the title “Modern Pedagogical Implications-An Investigation”. Dr V.Kavitha Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS introduced the resource guest to the participants and session was handed over to the resource person. The speaker provided many implementation tips towards the notion of an Ideal Teacher irrespective of states while teaching English. He further made a power point presentation on various types of ESL approaches, techniques, and strategies that teachers can employ to help the students to develop proficiency in English. Dr R.Sirganesh, Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages of MITS moderated Q & A session. At the end of the session, Dr S. Mohankumar, Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS. The session was very insightful for the participants.

The entire session was hosted by Dr R Sriganesh, Assistant Professor of English& Foreign languages, MITS.

The Fifth and last day of FDP (30.06.2023) was addressed by Dr Madhumathi Pasupathi, Associate Professor, Department of English, Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development, Tamil Nadu. Dr V.Kavitha Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS introduced the resource guest to the participants and session was handed over to the resource person. The resource person lectured on the title “Digital Learning and Online Assessment”. She emphasized not only teaching but also the vitality of assessments. She listed open-source exam software like VirtualX, TCEExam, Papershala and also various classroom assessment techniques online tools like Minute papers and Muddiest point. She also highlighted the formative and summative assessments which play a vital role in the teaching learning process. The session was highly fruitful for the teachers and gained knowledge on various assessment online tools. The session was followed by Dr. P. Athahar, Head, Department of English & Foreign Languages, giving rousing concluding remarks on the successful completion of FDP. This was followed by participants sharing their experience and expressing gratitude for the organizers of the FDP.

Dr S .Mohankumar Assistant Professor, Department of English & Foreign languages, MITS rendered a Vote of Thanks and the programme was successfully concluded with a lot of positive and commendable feedback from every participant