She also uttered her appreciative words to the GATE qualifiers of year 2024 and motivated the students to attend this kind of competitive exams in their final and pre-final years. She also highlighted the benefits of conducting this kind of technical events and told the students to use this exciting platform to improve their technical skills. Finally, she wished all the students a good day.

INAUGRAL ADDRESS

Dr. Goutam Chakraborty, Distinguished Professor and Dean / CSE shared his happiness on inaugurating this symposium. He stated the actual dictionary definition of symposium is something where the limited group of people makes and discuss about something, some topic of their interest, now here also it implies that limited student community today makes for this one-day technical symposium to discuss something about their interest so they organize as Technical and Non-technical events. He also added points to the importance of continuous learning and getting updated to the recent trends in the field of computer science.

SPECIAL INAUGRAL ADDRESS

Dr. P. Ramanathan, Vice-Principal / Academics addressed the gathering and congratulated the department for organizing this Technical fest. He added that symposium is a platform to fill some gaps among the student community. He shared some views that nowadays many of the students have shyness to come and present themselves in front of others that is very great barrier among students' community and motivated the students to participate in technical and non-technical events such that learning and experience matters not the winning or losing part of it. He further took opportunity to congratulate the department of CSE lead by Dr. R. Kalpana for organizing this event for the benefit of students and he thanked Principal and management for encouraging to organize such events.

Dr. C. Yuvaraj, Principal shared thoughts about the future opportunities and threats in the field of Computer Science domain. He also encouraged the students to learn upcoming trends in CSE domain and utilize the Infrastructure available in campus to learn and do projects. He also motivated the students to participate in contest and Project – Expo within the college and by visiting other colleges to mould their professional skills. He also insisted the Pre-Final year students to improve their technical skills and get job offer from MNCs through campus drives.

OUTCOME:

The outcomes of this technical symposium are

- Knowledge Sharing: Participants share their research, findings, and expertise in various technical fields. This exchange of knowledge helps in fostering innovation and learning among attendees
- Networking Opportunities: Symposia provide a platform for students to connect with each other, fostering collaborations and partnerships that can lead to future projects or employment opportunities
- Skill Development: Workshops and technical sessions offered during the symposium can help attendees enhance their technical skills, stay updated with the latest technologies, and learn new tools and techniques.
- Career Advancement: For students and early-career professionals, presenting research or participating in symposium activities can enhance their resumes, increase visibility in their field, and potentially lead to job offers or academic opportunities.
- Feedback and Evaluation: Presenters receive feedback on their work from peers and experts in the field, helping them refine their research and improve future endeavors.
- Inspiration and Motivation: Attending talks, keynotes, and panel discussions can inspire attendees by exposing them to cutting-edge research, innovative ideas, and success stories in their field.

Overall, the outcomes of this technical symposium contribute to the advancement of knowledge, innovation, and collaboration within the respective technical community.
