Report Received on 12.05.2026.

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering (ECE), in association with Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), successfully organized a One-Day Seminar on “Patents, Copyrights, Trademarks, and Research Publication Ethics, including Step-by-Step Intellectual Property Filing Processes” on May 02, 2026 in Hybrid mode at the Scale Up Room, MITS.

The seminar aimed to create awareness among faculty members, research scholars, and students regarding Intellectual Property Rights (IPR), patent filing procedures, copyrights, trademarks, research ethics, and publication standards. The seminar motivated researchers and academicians to protect their innovative ideas and research contributions through proper legal and ethical frameworks.

Inaugural Session

The event commenced with a welcome address by Dr. Maneesh Kumar Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering. He highlighted the importance of Intellectual Property Rights, patents, trademarks, copyrights, and research publication ethics, especially for scientists, academicians, and researchers. The resource person Dr. Manish Okade from NIT Rourkela was honored by the Head of the Department, Prof. Sanjay K Gowre, Department of ECE. The inaugural session created enthusiasm among participants and encouraged active participation throughout the seminar.

Technical Session

The technical lecture was delivered by Dr. Manish Okade, Associate Professor at NIT Rourkela. He explained the significance of Intellectual Property Rights and their role in protecting innovative ideas and research outcomes.

The speaker elaborated on various forms of intellectual property such as patents, copyrights, trademarks, and publication ethics. He discussed the complete step-by-step patent filing process, including idea identification, prior art search, drafting of patent specifications, documentation, examination, publication, and patent grant procedures.

The speaker also discussed plagiarism prevention, proper citation methods, quality journal selection, ethical publication practices, and the identification of predatory journals. Participants actively interacted with the speaker and clarified their doubts regarding research publications and patent filing.

Participation and Interaction

The seminar witnessed active participation from faculty members, research scholars, and students. The participants showed great interest during the interactive sessions and clarified various doubts regarding patents, copyrights, trademarks, and research ethics.

The hybrid mode of conduct facilitated wider participation and effective interaction among attendees.

Valedictory Session

The seminar concluded with closing remarks by Dr. Maneesh Kumar Singh, Associate Professor, Department of ECE. He thanked the management, faculty members, participants, and the resource person for making the seminar successful.

The valedictory speech was delivered by Prof. Sanjay K Gowre, Head of the Department of ECE. He appreciated the efforts of the organizing committee and encouraged students and faculty members to actively involve themselves in research and innovation activities.
