Outcomes of the Parent-Teacher Meet:

- Academic Progress Insights: Parents receive a detailed understanding of their child's academic performance, including strengths, areas for improvement, and specific subjects or skills needing attention.
- Personalized Action Plan: Teachers, parents, and students set goals for improvement with specific actions to address academic or behavioural challenges.
- Better Parent-Teacher Communication: Clear lines of communication are established for ongoing updates, addressing future concerns, and tracking progress over time.
- Awareness of Support Resources: Parents learn about available resources like tutoring, counselling, or academic support services that could aid their child's development.
- Encouragement for Extracurricular Activities: Teachers inform parents about the benefits of extracurricular activities, guiding them on how these can contribute to the student's overall growth and skills.
- Alignment on Future Goals: The meeting establishes clear academic or career goals, such as improving grades, focusing on certain skills, or participating in specific activities, which parents and teachers can encourage collaboratively.
- Parental Feedback and Concerns: Parents have the opportunity to express concerns or suggestions, which can lead to improvements in teaching methods, curriculum focus, or classroom management.
