Welcome Address by Head of the Department Dr. Baskaran:
Dr. S. Baskaran, the esteemed Head of the Department, welcomed everyone to the alumni guest lecture session. He emphasized the significance of such interactions in bridging academia with industry expertise. Dr. S. Baskaran highlighted the importance of staying updated with the latest industry trends, underscoring the relevance of today's topic, "Merits of Java Tools in Design," in the current technological landscape.

Guest Introduction by Dr. Prithivirajan:
Dr. R. Prithivirajan introduced the distinguished alumni, Bhanu Prakash, to the audience. He recounted Mr. Prakash's illustrious journey from being a student at our institution to becoming a Design Engineer at Trishun Pvt Ltd, a reputable company in Hyderabad. Dr. R. Prithivirajan commended Mr. Prakash's expertise in Java tools and his contributions to the field of design engineering.

Lecture on Merits of Java Tools in Design by Mr. Bhanu Prakash:
Mr. Bhanu Prakash commenced his lecture by expressing gratitude for the opportunity to address the audience. He delved into the merits of utilizing Java tools in the domain of design engineering. Mr. Prakash provided insightful examples and case studies, elucidating how Java tools streamline design processes, enhance efficiency, and facilitate collaboration within project teams.

Vote of Thanks by the Coordinator of the Program:
Mr. Muthu Lakshmanan extended heartfelt thanks to Bhanu Prakash for sharing his invaluable insights. He acknowledged the enriching experience that Mr. Prakash's lecture offered to the attendees. Muthulakshmanan also expressed gratitude to Dr. S. Baskaran for his unwavering support and to Dr. R. Prithivirajan for his introduction. He concluded by urging the audience to leverage the knowledge gained from the session to excel in their academic and professional endeavors.

Student Interaction with the Guest:
Following the lecture, students had the opportunity to interact with Bhanu Prakash. They posed insightful questions, seeking clarification on various aspects discussed during the session. Mr. Prakash patiently addressed each query, offering practical advice and sharing anecdotes from his industry experience. The interactive session fostered a conducive learning environment, allowing students to gain deeper insights into the application of Java tools in design engineering.

In conclusion, the alumni guest lecture by Bhanu Prakash on the merits of Java tools in design proved to be an enlightening and enriching experience for all attendees. The event not only facilitated knowledge exchange but also strengthened the bond between the alma mater and its alumni, reaffirming the commitment to nurturing future professionals in the field of engineering.
