Event Overview:

The Literary Club of MITS hosted a literary event, “Monsoon Magic”, on 25th September 2025 at Seminar Hall–B. The program was designed around the theme “Express & Impress”, blending the charm of the rainy season with creative expression. The key activity, “A Letter to Rain”, gave students an opportunity to pen down their emotions, memories, and reflections on the monsoon, turning their thoughts into heartfelt pieces of writing.

The event was started at 3:15pm with the open address of Student Coordinator Varshini continued with speech of T. Rama Mohan followed by SAC coordinator Dr. G.Reddy Hemantha. They motivated students to join clubs and participate in such events.

The event aimed to spark creativity, refine literary abilities, and build confidence in self-expression. It also encouraged participants to look beyond the ordinary and connect with cultural and natural elements through the lens of literature. By doing so, the Literary Club created a warm and engaging space where students could showcase their talent, share perspectives, and strengthen their communication skills while also learning the value of collaboration.

The event at the end the judges Dr.B.Sakteshwar, Dr.R.Sri Ganesh has selected the winners from two events.

The Madanapalle Institute of Technology & Science (Deemed to be University) successfully organized Anti-Ragging Week on 12th August 2025, in association with the Literary Club, Student Activity Center (SAC), and Anti-Ragging Cell. The event was designed to create awareness among students about the harmful effects of ragging and to promote a culture of respect, unity, and inclusiveness within the campus. Ragging is a punishable offense under law, and the institution has always taken strict measures to ensure a safe and supportive learning environment for every student. This program was a step forward in reiterating MITs's commitment to maintaining a ragging-free campus.

The day began with an Essay Writing Competition on the theme "Ragging Free Campuses: Role of Students, Teachers and Authorities". It was conducted from 2:00 PM to 3:00 PM in Seminar Hall-C. Many enthusiastic students participated and expressed their perspectives on how ragging affects academic and personal growth. They also highlighted the vital role of students, teachers, and authorities in preventing ragging and building a healthy campus culture. The competition witnessed a variety of creative and thoughtful writings, which reflected the awareness and responsibility among students.

Following this, the Elocution Competition was held from 3:00 PM to 4:30 PM on the topic "MITs: A Ragging Free Campus". The event gave students a platform to express their views, share real-life examples, and put forth suggestions on how to sustain a ragging-free environment. Participants spoke with great confidence, passion, and conviction, making the competition highly engaging and impactful. The audience was impressed with the strong communication skills and powerful messages delivered by the speakers.

To ensure a fair and valuable evaluation, the institute invited Dr. Sri Ganesh and Dr. Hemalatha as judges for the competitions. Both judges shared insightful feedback with the participants and appreciated the initiative taken by the organizers. They emphasized the importance of empathy, discipline, and active participation by every student in preventing ragging. Their presence added great value to the program and inspired the students to take the cause seriously.

After careful assessment, the judges announced the winners of both competitions. In the Essay Writing Competition, the first prize was awarded to Sandra S Nair from the dept of CSE,3rd year. the second prize to Naveen Kumar from the dept of CSE-AI,2nd year. In the Elocution Competition Aliya Parveen from the dept of CST,3rd year secured the first prize, Shaik Anisa Thabussum from the dept of ECE,2nd year won the second prize. All winners were honored with certificates and attractive prizes as a token of appreciation for their efforts and performance.

The event concluded with a formal vote of thanks, extending gratitude to the management, faculty coordinators, SAC team, Literary Club, Anti-Ragging Cell, and especially to the judges for their valuable contributions. The program not only encouraged students to showcase their talents but also reinforced the collective responsibility of maintaining harmony and respect within the institution.

Overall, the Anti-Ragging Week celebration was a great success, leaving a strong message that MITs stands firmly against ragging and continues to foster a safe, inclusive, and supportive environment for all its students.

- To connect students through shared experiences in speaking, storytelling, and reflection.
- To foster confidence and collaboration by engaging students in expressive literary activities.
- To gather constructive feedback and suggestions for the continuous improvement of the Literary Club.

Event Overview:

The Literary Club of MITS successfully hosted an interactive literary event titled “Club Connect” on 24th December 2025 at South Block-212. The program was thoughtfully designed to strengthen connections among club members and students while fostering confidence, creativity, and effective communication. The event served as a platform to encourage active participation, self-expression, and deeper engagement with the Literary Club.

The event featured two engaging activities, “Voices Within” and “Picture Stories”, each aimed at nurturing different dimensions of literary and speaking skills. Voices Within provided participants with an opportunity to reflect on and write about their experiences with the Literary Club, highlighting personal growth, improvements in public speaking, and the benefits gained through continuous involvement in club activities. This reflective exercise encouraged honesty, self-awareness, and articulate expression.

Picture Stories was a dynamic speaking activity where participants were given chits related to images and were asked to speak spontaneously about the displayed pictures. This activity stimulated imagination, enhanced descriptive ability, and helped students develop confidence in impromptu speaking while expressing their perspectives creatively.

The event commenced at 4:00 PM with an opening address by the Faculty coordinator and Student Coordinators, who emphasized the importance of literary clubs in personality development and encouraged students to actively participate in club initiatives. Their words motivated students to engage more deeply with the club and explore opportunities for learning beyond academics.

Club Connect aimed to strengthen interaction, improve communication skills, and create a supportive environment for literary growth. The event successfully fostered collaboration, confidence, and a sense of belonging among participants. By blending reflection, creativity, and interaction, the Literary Club created a meaningful experience that reinforced the value of expression and connection.

Overall, Club Connect proved to be an enriching and engaging session that not only enhanced literary and speaking skills but also strengthened the bond between the club and its members. The event left participants motivated, confident, and inspired to actively contribute to the club’s future endeavors.

Outcome of the Event:

- Enhanced interaction and stronger bonding among Literary Club members and participating students.
- Improved confidence and effectiveness in public speaking and self-expression.
- Encouraged creativity and spontaneous thinking through reflective writing and visual storytelling activities.
- Increased student engagement and active participation in Literary Club initiatives.
- Fostered a supportive and collaborative environment promoting continuous learning and personal development.

Event Overview:

The Literary Club of Madanapalle Institute of Technology and Sciences (MITS) successfully hosted a motivational talk on the occasion of National Youth Day on 12th January, 2026, in observance of Swami Vivekananda Jayanti, with the primary aim of inspiring and empowering the youth to realize their inner potential and social responsibility. The event was organized to commemorate the ideals of Swami Vivekananda and to enhance values such as self-confidence, discipline, leadership, and national consciousness among students.

The program commenced with a welcome note that set a positive and purposeful tone for the session. This was followed by an address from Reddy Hemantha, SAC Coordinator, who emphasized the crucial role of youth in academic excellence, social engagement, and nation building. She encouraged students to actively participate in institutional and societal initiatives and to shape themselves into responsible and capable citizens.

The highlight of the event was an inspiring motivational speech delivered by Dr. Aju Aravind, who motivated students to cultivate self-belief, determination, and commitment in their personal and professional lives. His address left a strong impact on the audience, motivating them to set clear goals and contribute positively towards national development. Overall, the event achieved its intended outcome by energizing the students, strengthening their sense of purpose, and reinforcing the significance of youth in building a strong and progressive nation.

Outcome of the Event:

- Students gained inspiration from the teachings and ideals of Swami Vivekananda.
- Improved self-confidence and positive attitude among participants.
- Enhanced awareness about the role of youth in nation building.
- Encouraged goal setting and personal development.
- Motivated students to adopt leadership qualities and social responsibility.
